About ChemThink

Thank you for visiting the ChemThink site. This site is being developed to help students understand the how and why of chemistry using animated, interactive online activities.

ChemThink will continue to grow and new activities will be added as they can be developed. Here are a few samples of the activities currently available.

Tutorials:
Each ChemThink tutorial is interactive and focused on a narrow concept area. Students can complete the tutorials at their own pace as an in class assignment or on their own. When an
